

Frayer Model

Definition

- being accountable
- the quality, state, or fact of being trusted or depended on

Characteristics

- doing things without being told
- doing what you are told
- accomplishing all tasks
- remembering all tasks
- being prepared

responsibility

Examples

- employees
- taking care of a pet
- doing chores
- writing down homework
- doing homework and bringing it back to school
- government

Non-Examples

- not doing what you're told
- losing things
- not finishing things
- not doing homework
- being lazy
- not showing up
- neglecting pets
- having to be reminded to do something