- Sixteen-year-old Starr Carter moves between two worlds: the poor neighborhood where she lives and the fancy suburban prep school she attends. The uneasy balance between these worlds is shattered when Starr witnesses the fatal shooting of her childhood best friend Khalil at the hands of a police officer. Khalil was unarmed. Soon afterward, his death is a national headline. Some are calling him a thug, maybe even a drug dealer and a gangbanger. Protesters are taking to the streets in Khalil's name. Some cops and the local drug lord try to intimidate Starr and her family. What everyone wants to know is: what really went down that night? And the only person alive who can answer that is Starr. But what Starr does or does not say could upend her community. It could also endanger her life
- REASON FOR CHALLENGE: Drug use, violence, police brutality, profanity.

NONFICTION

- 6-12 Frank, Anne. The Diary of a Young Girl: The Definitive Edition. New York: Doubleday, 1995. 940.53 F851D

BIOGRAPHY

- 9-12 Angelou, Maya. I Know Why the Caged Bird Sings. New York: Random House, 1969. B
AN43I

Here is a book as joyous and painful, as mysterious and memorable, as childhood itself. I Know Why the Caged Bird Sings captures the longing of lonely children, the brute insult of bigotry, and the wonder of words that can make the world right.

REASONS FOR CHALLENGE: Sexually explicit.

- 9-12 Bechdel, Alison. Fun Home: A Family Tragicomic. Boston, MA: Houghton Mifflin, 2006. B
B3872B

Meet Alison's father, a historic preservation expert and obsessive restorer of the family's Victorian house, a third-generation funeral home director, a high school English teacher, an icily distant parent, and a closeted homosexual who, as it turns out, is involved with male students and a family babysitter. Through narrative that is alternately heartbreaking and fiercely funny, we are drawn into a daughter's complex yearning for her father. And yet, apart from assigned stints dusting caskets at the family-owned 'fun home,' as Alison and her brothers call it, the relationship achieves its most intimate expression through the shared code of books. When Alison comes out as homosexual herself in late adolescence, the denouement is swift, graphic, and redemptive.

REASONS FOR CHALLENGE: Violence, graphic images.

PreK-3 Herthel, Jessica. I am Jazz. New York: Dial Books for Young Readers, an imprint of Penguin Group (USA), LLC, 2014. B
J444H

Presents the story of a transgender child who traces her early awareness that she is a girl in spite of male anatomy and the acceptance she finds through a wise doctor who explains her natural transgender status.

REASON FOR CHALLENGE: LGBTQIA+ content, sex education, religious viewpoint, and unsuited for age group.

9-12 Satrapi, Marjane. Persepolis. 1st American ed. New York, NY: Pantheon Books, 2003. B
SA835S

In powerful black-and-white comic strip images, Satrapi tells the story of her life in Tehran from ages six to fourteen, years that saw the overthrow of the Shah's regime, the triumph of the Islamic Revolution, and the devastating effects of war with Iraq. The intelligent and outspoken only child of committed Marxists and the great-granddaughter of one of Iran's last emperors, Marjane bears witness to a childhood uniquely entwined with the history of her country.

REASON FOR CHALLENGE: Offensive language, gambling, racially offensive.
