Money

Teaching Resources Center, Joyner Library
A Selective Annotated Bibliography

Titles in the Teaching Resources Center are cataloged with Dewey call numbers and are preceded by Curric. Please ask someone at the Teaching Resources Service Desk if you need any assistance.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Grade Level</th>
<th>Title Information</th>
<th>Call Number</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Think about the choices you make every day. Every choice is a decision.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Mama and Papa Bear try to teach Brother and Sister the value of money and how to manage their allowance.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Ruben feels like he is the only kid without a bike. His friend Sergio reminds him that his birthday is coming, but Ruben knows that the kinds of birthday gifts he and Sergio receive are not the same. After all, when Ruben's mom sends him to Sonny's corner store for groceries, sometimes she doesn't have enough money for everything on the list. So when Ruben sees a dollar bill fall out of someone's purse, he picks it up and puts it in his pocket. But when he gets home, he discovers it's not one dollar or even five or ten--it's a hundred-dollar bill, more than enough for a new bike just like Sergio's! But what about the crossed-off groceries? And what about the woman who lost</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
her money?

Benny sets off in the morning with five shiny new pennies to spend and eventually buys something for his mother, brother, sister, dog, and cat.

Arthur starts saving the money he earns in order to buy a surprise birthday present for D.W.

Trying to help Mr. Farmer with his finances, Minnie and Moo go to the bank to ask for money and are mistaken for the Bazooka sisters, dangerous outlaws.

In nineteenth-century New York City, when Pa brings home a young turkey in hopes of saving money on their Christmas dinner, his family faces all sorts of trouble--and expense--in their tiny apartment.

Every Sunday night a young girl and her grandmother go on an imaginary shopping trip using play money and the advertisements in the newspaper as a guide for their ‘purchases.

While trying to find a way to buy a concert ticket to see her favorite pop star, Sally learns several new ways of saving money.

Marco surveys his friends and uses bar graphs to convince his father to raise his allowance.

Penny sets up a lemonade stand to earn money for her mother's birthday card and learns about currency.

Vivi loves the color pink. She is working and saving her money in order to buy a pink doll from the store. How does she feel when the doll is sold to someone else?

The members of the Monster Club discuss money and how to manage it.

Tia Isa and her niece try to save enough money to buy a car to take the whole family to the beach.

Laos enjoys his life in ancient Turkey. His father and grandfather are famous for crafting gold into beautiful objects, and Laos helps in their market stall, bartering gold for food and livestock. But exchanging such different goods is complicated. They need something to represent the value of their goods -- and so the king gives Laos's family the very important task of creating the world's first currency.

Caroline sets up a stand to sell her Grandmother's sweet lemonade to raise money for the new wheelchair her friend Shannon needs, which inspires others to help, as well, in bigger and better ways. Includes tips for encouraging children to be philanthropic.

In 1931 Cameroon, young Kedi is upset to learn that children in her American teacher's village of New York are going hungry because of the Great Depression, and she asks her mother, neighbors, and even the headman for money to help. Includes historical notes.

The first time Abuela held Niña, her heart overflowed with tenderness. And as Niña grows up, she and Abuela have a lot of fun doing simple things. Abuela decides that she wants to buy Niña a special treat, so she saves a little bit of her money every week. But then something terrible happens, and Abuela's dream of a surprise for Niña seems impossible. Luckily, the time they spend together and the love they have for each other are the best gifts of all.
Students in Miss Fox’s class have a series of mishaps, all involving a certain visiting author, as they try to earn money for a field trip to Roller Coaster World.

Forgetful Wendy Wilson never turns off lights or closes the refrigerator, until her mother explains that wasting electricity is like putting money down the drain, and though the figure of speech helps Wendy remember, it causes some confusion too.

Ernest Elephant loves to wear hats, and has one for every day of the week but Friday, so when he finds money on the playground that he knows belongs to his friend Mike Monkey, he is briefly tempted to keep the money to buy a hat to wear on Friday.

Undocumented is the story of immigrant workers who have come to the United States without papers. Every day, these men and women join the work force and contribute positively to society. The story is told via the ancient Mixtec codex--accordion fold--format. Juan grew up in Mexico working in the fields to help provide for his family. Struggling for money, Juan crosses over into the United States and becomes an undocumented worker, living in a poor neighborhood, working hard to survive. Though he is able to get a job as a busboy at a restaurant, he is severely undercompensated--he receives less than half of the minimum wage! Risking his boss reporting him to the authorities for not having proper resident papers, Juan risks everything and stands up for himself and the rest of the community.

Based on a true story about a young Kenyan boy whose mother left him but had named him Muthini which meant suffering because he was born with no fingers on his left hand and only two on his right. Many times he was made fun of or avoided which hurt him deeply. He lives with his very elderly grandmother, his Nyanya, along with many cousins whose parents had either died or left them. They are extremely poor and there is never enough money or food, but plenty of love. A difficult choice must be made and Muthini is the youngest child and needs to have a better chance in life, so his Nyanya takes him to an orphanage where he is blessed and his name is changed to Baraka which means blessing for he was a blessing just as his grandmother always knew.

After watching a homeless man collect empty soft drink cans for the redemption money, a young boy decides to collect cans himself to earn money for a skateboard until he has a change of heart.

FICTION

When jobs typically done by humans are replaced with alien technology from the vuvv, Adam's parents have no money for food, clean water, or medicine. Adam and his girlfriend Chloe are forced to get creative. Since the vuvv love anything of "classic" Earth culture they begin recording 1950s-style dates which the vuvv watch in a pay-per-minute format. As the money rolls in, how far will Adam be willing to go to give the vuvv what they want?

Jackson and his family have fallen on hard times. There's no more money for rent, and not much for food, either. His parents, his little sister, and their dog may have to live in their minivan. Again. Crenshaw is a cat. He's large, he's outspoken, and he's imaginary. He's been gone for four years but has come back into Jackson's life to help him. Can an imaginary friend be enough to save this family from losing everything?

His younger brother's obsession with money and the discovery of long-lost cousins Flora and Fauna provide many embarrassing moments for twelve-year-old Peter.

Aza Wu knows that casting magic can kill--it killed her sister--but she needs money desperately to pay off Saint Willow, who controls her sector of Lotusland, and save the family teahouse, so she secretly enters an underground casting tournament--and finds herself competing against other castors with "full magic," and where even victory could cause her to lose her freedom, her magic, and her life.

Twelve-year-old Greg, who has always been good at moneymaking projects, is surprised to find himself teaming up with his lifelong rival, Maura, to create a series of comic books to sell at school.

After their mother dies, two brothers find a huge amount of money which they must spend quickly before England switches to the new European currency, but they disagree on what to do with it.

When money disappears from fourth-grader Evan's pocket and everyone thinks that his annoying classmate Scott stole it, Evan's younger sister stages a trial involving the entire class, trying to prove what happened.

All thirteen-year-old Raspberry can think of is making money so that she and her mother never have to worry about living on the streets again.

Fifth-grader Cleo Edison Oliver is full of money-making ideas, and her fifth-grade Passion Project is no different--but things get more complicated when she has to keep her business running, be a good listener when her best friend needs her, and deal with the bully teasing her about being adopted at the same time.

Contest-crazed twelve-year-old Ben uses his wits and way with words in hopes of winning a prize that will keep his family from being evicted until his mother can pass her final CPA examination.

In early 1980s New Mexico, thirteen-year-old Jackson Jones recruits his cousins and sisters to help tend an elderly neighbor's neglected apple orchard for the chance to make big money and, perhaps, to own the orchard.

Ten-year-old Beans Curry, a member of the Keepsies, the best marble playing gang in Depression-era Key West, Florida, engages in various schemes to earn money while "New Dealers" from Washington, D.C., arrive to turn run down Key West into a tourist resort.

In March of 1887, Rocco, an eleven-year-old from an Italian village, arrives in New York City where he is forced to live in squalor and beg for money as a street musician, but he finds the city's cruelty to children and animals intolerable and sets out to make things better, whatever the cost to himself.

In a small fishing village in British Columbia, twelve-year-old Primrose tries to be a matchmaker for her Uncle Jack, befriends Ked, a new foster child, tries to decide if she is willing to go to jail for her convictions, and together with Ked, publishes a cook book to raise money for the Fisherman’s Aid. Includes recipes.

Sidney's mother refuses to let him have a dog, so when his friend Sydney comes up with the idea of starting a dog-walking business, it seems like a way to have dogs to play with and make money at the same time—but soon the friends find out that dogs are a lot of work, and can really strain a friendship.

Delaney has always wanted a dog, and volunteering at a local animal shelter seems like a step in the right direction—especially when her friends Maren, Ashley, and Willow get involved with organizing a fund-raiser fashion show for pet adoption.

Ok, a Korean American boy, tries a get rich quick scheme of starting a hair braiding business and winning the school talent competition to hide the fact that he is struggling with the loss of his father and the financial hardships he and his mother must now bear.

When some quirky art donated to a school fundraising effort to help a Pakistani American family, victims of a possible hate crime, is revealed to be an unknown work by a famous outsider artist, worth hundreds of thousands of dollars, adults and teenagers alike debate who should get the money and begin to question each other's motivations.
For thirteen-year-old Rachel, summer is meant to be a time of long days of swimming at the lake and hanging out with her best friend, Micah. And this year she has a summer job, taking care of the animals at the small hobby farm across the road. At home, though, things are complicated. Her parents seem more worried about money than usual; they've even started arguing about it. When the financial challenges facing the family reach a crisis point, Rachel will have to face some new realities. Things change, and they end, but there just might be a few new beginnings, too.

Tara is forced to move in with her cousins after her house burns down. She faces a difficult adjustment while her mother is away trying to earn money. Interwoven with this story is that of Tara's ancestors, who in 1859 were convinced by a mysterious stranger to put all their money into searching their property for gold.

Stink and his friends try to earn money to buy the latest book in the Nightmare on Zombie Street series and go to the book release party.

The adventures of an orphaned young man in Victorian England who is given a great deal of money by an unknown benefactor to enable him to live as a gentleman, pursuing a good education and fulfilling great expectations.

Things get out of hand for a twelve-year-old boy when a neighbor convinces him to expand his summer lawn mowing business.

Having expanded his summer lawn mowing job into an ever-growing business conglomerate, a twelve-year-old boy gets involved in high finance thanks to his hippie stockbroker, takes on sponsorship of a boxer, and becomes a media sensation.

For thirteen-year-old Rachel, summer is meant to be a time of long days of swimming at the lake and hanging out with her best friend, Micah. And this year she has a summer job, taking care of the animals at the small hobby farm across the road... At home, though, things are complicated. Her parents seem more worried about money than usual; they've even started arguing about it... When the financial challenges facing the family reach a crisis point, Rachel will have to face some new realities. Things change, and they end, but there just might be a few new beginnings, too.

Tara is forced to move in with her cousins after her house burns down. She faces a difficult adjustment while her mother is away trying to earn money. Interwoven with this story is that of Tara's ancestors, who in 1859 were convinced by a mysterious stranger to put all their money into searching their property for gold.

Stink and his friends try to earn money to buy the latest book in the Nightmare on Zombie Street series and go to the book release party.

The adventures of an orphaned young man in Victorian England who is given a great deal of money by an unknown benefactor to enable him to live as a gentleman, pursuing a good education and fulfilling great expectations.

Things get out of hand for a twelve-year-old boy when a neighbor convinces him to expand his summer lawn mowing business.

Having expanded his summer lawn mowing job into an ever-growing business conglomerate, a twelve-year-old boy gets involved in high finance thanks to his hippie stockbroker, takes on sponsorship of a boxer, and becomes a media sensation.

For thirteen-year-old Rachel, summer is meant to be a time of long days of swimming at the lake and hanging out with her best friend, Micah. And this year she has a summer job, taking care of the animals at the small hobby farm across the road... At home, though, things are complicated. Her parents seem more worried about money than usual; they've even started arguing about it... When the financial challenges facing the family reach a crisis point, Rachel will have to face some new realities. Things change, and they end, but there just might be a few new beginnings, too.

Tara is forced to move in with her cousins after her house burns down. She faces a difficult adjustment while her mother is away trying to earn money. Interwoven with this story is that of Tara's ancestors, who in 1859 were convinced by a mysterious stranger to put all their money into searching their property for gold.

Stink and his friends try to earn money to buy the latest book in the Nightmare on Zombie Street series and go to the book release party.

The adventures of an orphaned young man in Victorian England who is given a great deal of money by an unknown benefactor to enable him to live as a gentleman, pursuing a good education and fulfilling great expectations.

Things get out of hand for a twelve-year-old boy when a neighbor convinces him to expand his summer lawn mowing business.

Having expanded his summer lawn mowing job into an ever-growing business conglomerate, a twelve-year-old boy gets involved in high finance thanks to his hippie stockbroker, takes on sponsorship of a boxer, and becomes a media sensation.
Kylie Jean needs to find a way to make some spending money, and she decides that baking cupcakes for people--and dogs--and selling them at garage sales is the perfect solution.

When her crush Brandon reveals that the animal shelter where he volunteers is in danger of being closed, Nikki and her friends enter an ice skating competition to help raise money, an effort that is compromised by an interfering Mackenzie.

Arturo scrapes by living in Anapra working odd jobs and staying out of sight. His friend Faustino joined one of the drug gangs. He stole money from the gang to send his girlfriend and her baby into the U.S. -- and he wants Arturo's help replacing the money before the gang kills him. Looming over Arturo's story, and Juarez itself, is Santa Muerte -- Saint Death, watching impassively as people in the border town struggle in the face of a vicious drug trade, dangerous trafficking, corruption, and income inequality.

When money becomes tight in the McNair household, Greg is willing to do chores and work in the neighborhood to earn money, but his cousin James looks for an easier way to get the things he wants.

When money becomes tight in the McNair household, James forms a local gang of kids who steal the things they want from the local stores, while his cousin Greg is working hard for the money to buy things.

Brianna Justice is the president of her Detroit middle school's sixth grade, but she is finding the position a real headache--beside the normal troubles of being in a new school, and the sudden coldness of her old friends, there is a class trip to Washington, D.C. coming up and she needs to figure out how to raise the rest of the money so that the class can go.

NONFICTION

Books on Money Management

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Author</th>
<th>Publisher</th>
<th>Library Catalog Numbers</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Introduces children to American currency values and the basics of adding and subtracting money.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4-6</td>
<td>Bailey, Gerry. Common Cents: The Money in Your Pocket. Minneapolis: Compass Point Books, 2006.</td>
<td>Provides an overview on the responsibilities, enjoyment, and the importance of making money, saving money, borrowing money, spending money, and sharing money.</td>
<td>332.024 B152C</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3-9</td>
<td>Barnhart, Norm. Marvelous Money Tricks. North Mankato, Minnesota: Capstone Press, a capstone imprint, 2014.</td>
<td>Step-by-step instructions and photos show how to do a variety of fun and entertaining tricks using money.</td>
<td>793.8 B266M</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1-2</td>
<td>Basel, Roberta. Cash, Credit, and Debit Cards. Mankato, MN: Capstone, 2006.</td>
<td>Introduces the reader to payment methods, including checks, debit cards, and credit cards. Includes an activity and fun facts.</td>
<td>332.1 B2913C</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4-6</td>
<td>Berne, Emma Carlson. Run Your Own Babysitting Business. First edition. New York: PowerKids Press, 2014.</td>
<td>Many young people babysit, but with the information in this title at their fingertips, babysitting can be brought to a whole new level of money-making potential. Tips on marketing oneself and highlighting extra credentials, such as CPR certifications or having taken a babysitting course, are covered. Scheduling, arriving at a job prepared, and safety are also highlighted.</td>
<td>649 B4572R</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
business with the proper planning and organization. Young people learn all the steps to run a successful bake sale and get some useful tips and a handy checklist as well.

All cars get dirty sometime. Why not be there to make some money when cleaning time comes around. Young businesspeople will find out about the importance of making a plan, getting the word out, and hiring help. A car wash is one of the simplest businesses out there. Young people interested in running a car wash can set attainable goals and reap the rewards--money!

Shopping at yard sales is one of America's favorite weekend pastimes. Budding entrepreneurs with a willingness to work hard can capitalize on this trend and make some money. Real economic concepts, such as supply and demand, are covered while readers learn the ins and outs of planning, buying supplies, advertising, and other tools of any successful business.

A yard work business is perfect for any young people who are hard-working and not afraid to get a little dirty. This title stresses the importance of advertising, attention to detail, and fair pricing to ensure that new businesspeople get repeat customers. The types of supplies that are needed and other tips for a successful yard care business are covered as well.

Introduces the role of governments in a free enterprise economic system, including the way they raise and spend money, the role of governments in maintaining the financial system, and the effects of government economic activity on the public.

This volume explains how money is created and used, and how it is a part of the global system of trade and economics.

Looks at the problems that can arise when family members and friends lose their jobs.

A guide designed to teach young people the strategies needed to make money and be successful.

Gives information about budgeting, credit cards, and saving money for teens.

Teaches how you can find start-up money for a business and how to keep track of your finances once you’re up and running.

Explains the basic tenets behind free market, command, and socialist economies around the world.

Introduces the basic principles of money and personal finance, including its history, sources of money, banking and bank accounts, credit cards, identity theft, budgeting, loans, and related topics.

Fun photographs, colorful graphics, and simple text are used to teach young readers basic math concepts. From Cents to Dollars to Decimal Points this book will help kids develop the skills they need. A simple activity at the end of the book encourages kids to put coins and bills to use! Aligned to Common Core standards and correlated to state standards.

Provides information on banks and the functions that they serve, including information on the different types of accounts available, how interest works, and reasons why people might want to use a bank.

7-12 Fischer, James. Earning Money: Jobs. Broomall, Pa.: Mason Crest

Provides basic information about how to be successful in the workplace, with tips on job hunting, gaining experience, interviewing, and time management.

Everyone can afford to donate something, whether it's money, volunteer time, or used goods. Helping others, including giving donations to charities, makes people happy. There are thousands of different charities you can donate to. Finding the right charity to support, one that's working on issues you really care about, can be very satisfying. Giving to charity makes you feel good about yourself and helps change the world!

Gives teens a guideline for how to use their money and what to look for to make the best decisions when spending.

The process of writing, using, and processing a check is explained in an approachable, entertaining way. Readers will learn how to balance a checkbook and manage a checking account.

Provides basic information about how money and economics work.

Examines how money has become tied to sports in a variety of ways, and what implications this has for both athletes and fans. Have there always been professional athletes who earn huge salaries? What is the role of advertising in sports? Exciting and varied case studies are used throughout this book to illustrate issues and concepts.

A lighthearted chronicle of the history of money covers topics ranging from currency forms and the relationship between money and writing to the way taxes work and the practices of modern banking systems.

Following a young girl on a trip to the bank where she deposits money from her piggy bank.

An introduction to budgeting that explains how to make a budget and stick to it, how to decide if something is a need or a want, why it is important to have a budget, and how to save and spend money wisely.

Explores what people do with their money.

Presenting a broad array of financial knowledge, this interesting, easily understandable book will aid students and young adults in achieving their desired levels of wealth, success, and overall financial and personal fulfillment.

Offers tips on how to get a job, understand a paycheck, and negotiate a raise.

This title explores how far money has come - from beads and conch shells to the currency that we use today.

Young readers learn about U.S. coins and bills through simple text and photos.

A step-by-step guide for developing a business for fun and profit. Includes developing a business plan, conducting market research, developing a budget and banking. Chronicles three children entrepreneurs who have also incorporated philanthropy into their business model. Glossary, additional resources and index.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Grade Level</th>
<th>Author</th>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Publisher</th>
<th>Library Call Numbers</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Simple rhyming text and color photographs describe counting money.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Explains how children can make money, be smart about saving, and find a job that they can enjoy.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Describes to young readers how to make a budget, including keeping track of income, fixed expenses vs. flexible expenses, and how a budget can be used to reach goals.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3-6</td>
<td>Randolph, Ryan P.</td>
<td>How to Save and Invest</td>
<td>New York: PowerKids Press, 2014.</td>
<td>332.6 R1596H</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>This book describes smart saving and investing, presenting information on savings accounts, investing, interest rates, different levels of risk in different investments, bonds, stocks, a mutual fund, investing in real estate, and researching to understand the costs that come with investing.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Teaches young readers how to use their money wisely, including how to follow a budget, how to be savvy about advertising, and how to understand return policies.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Introduces young readers to different money choices and discusses needs versus wants.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
In this math-based title young readers are introduced to Lauren and follow her decisions about spending and saving money for clothes. Concepts such as price, quantity, quality, and value are detailed throughout the narrative. This multi-platform series thoughtfully matches reading levels and math skills to teach kids more about using money every day.

In this math-based title young readers are introduced to David and follow his decisions about spending and saving money for entertainment. Concepts such as price, quantity, quality, and value are detailed throughout the narrative. This multi-platform series thoughtfully matches reading levels and math skills to teach kids more about using money every day.

Readers are introduced to Adam and follow his decisions about spending and saving money for food. Concepts such as price, quantity, quality, and value are detailed throughout the narrative.

In this math-based title young readers are introduced to Emily and follow her decisions about spending and saving money for hobbies. Concepts such as price, quantity, quality, and value are detailed throughout the narrative. This multi-platform series thoughtfully matches reading levels and math skills to teach kids more about using money every day.

In this math-based title young readers are introduced to Mason and follow his decisions about spending and saving money for school. Concepts such as price, quantity, quality, and value are detailed throughout the narrative.

In this math-based title young readers are introduced to Olivia and follow her decisions about spending and saving money for toys. Concepts such as price, quantity, quality, and value are detailed throughout the narrative. This multi-platform series thoughtfully matches reading levels and math skills to teach kids more about using money every day.

381.3 SCH23S

Provides tips and information for teens about wise and frugal shopping.

Guides children through the process of a business plan, safety, marketing, and gathering customer information in order to make money doing home services.

Kids want to make money! This fun and creative title introduces young readers to the idea of working in a format that is easy to read and use. From play groups to crafts, this book contains kid-tested projects that will have children earning money--and loving it! Instructions and photographs guide kids through the process of business plans, safety, marketing, gathering customer information, and providing a product or service. Background information, materials lists, and additional ideas provide a fun and organized approach to the world of work!

Kids want to make money! This fun and creative title introduces young readers to the idea of working in a format that is easy to read and use. From garage sales to bake sales, this book contains kid-tested projects that will have children earning money--and loving it! Instructions and photographs guide kids through the process of business plans, safety, marketing, gathering customer information, and providing a product or service. Background information, materials lists, and additional ideas provide a fun and organized approach to the world of work!

Guides children through the process of a business plan, safety, marketing, and gathering customer information in order to make money doing yard work.

Kids want to make money! This fun and creative title introduces young readers to the idea of working in a format that is easy to read and use. From carnivals to haunted houses, this book contains kid-tested projects that will have children earning money--and loving it! Instructions and photographs guide kids through the process of business plans, safety, marketing, gathering customer information, and providing a product or service. Background information, materials lists, and additional ideas provide a fun and organized approach to the world of work!

Guides children through the process of a business plan, safety, marketing, and gathering customer information in order to make money caring for pets.

Relevant images match informative text in this introduction to counting money. Intended for students in kindergarten through third grade.

Developed by literacy experts for students in kindergarten through grade three, this book introduces earning money to young readers through leveled text and related photos.

Relevant images match informative text in this introduction to saving money. Intended for students in kindergarten through third grade.

Developed by literacy experts for students in kindergarten through grade three, this book introduces spending money to young readers through leveled text and related photos.

Relevant images match informative text in this introduction to types of money. Intended for students in kindergarten through third grade.

Follows the experiences of a penny born in Philadelphia that travels everywhere from New York to Portland, Oregon, to Puerto Rico describing in detail his many adventures along the way.

7-12 Simons, Rae. A Guide to Teaching Young Adults About Money. Broomall,
A guide for parents and teachers to use along with the other books in this series in teaching young people about responsible money habits.

Explains the origins and development of money as a means of exchange, from barter to electronic forms, and discusses the economy, capitalism and other economic systems, and the influence of money on world politics, culture, and everyday life.

Money can be a source of conflict in almost any relationship, whether with your family, friends, or your girl or boyfriend. Whether you have it or you don't, money can stir a wide range of emotions but it's important not to confuse an emotional issue with a financial one (or vice versa). Discussing money with your parents can be difficult. Remember to stay calm and express yourself as clearly as possible. Making compromises is key to any relationship, especially when it comes to money. Money can make you feel happy, sad, powerful, proud, and both in and out of control, but your money doesn't determine who you are.

Learn about spending your money wisely when you're young.

Students can determine the meaning of key terms and relationships involving money, savings strategies, economics, and finance in this text that presents ten secrets in building the bank account of their dreams. They learn tips for increasing income, developing a savings plan, keeping a budget, spending wisely, starting an education fund, building an emergency fund, investing, and making their saving a habit.

7-12 Thompson, Helen. Cost of Living. Broomall, Pa.: Mason Crest Publishers, 2011. 339.4 T3737C

The cost of living is the amount of money a person needs to spend on housing, food, transportation, clothing, and other items that they need to live. The cost of living isn't an exact amount of money and doesn't mean that's all the money a person needs to live. Rather it is a term that refers to the amount of money you spend for the basic requirements of daily life. The cost of living can go up and down based on the conditions in the economy and depending on where you live.

Discusses different types of investing options, including savings accounts, bonds, and stocks.

Teaches the importance of math when running a business, focusing on budgeting, profits, and percentages.

Credit is essentially borrowed money. When you use a credit card or take out a loan, you are agreeing that you will borrow money now and pay it back later. In addition to helping you make larger purchases, you need to use credit in order to build up a credit history. In order to establish a good credit history, you'll need to make sure to pay your rent and bills on time and keep your debts low. Paying off your debts is the best way to maintain good credit. If you have poor credit, you'll have a harder time borrowing money. Having poor credit can limit the choices you can make in your life.

The stock market refers to how pieces of various companies are bought and sold. Investing money means to make money from your money. A share is a piece of the company that you can buy. A corporation is any business that splits itself into different shares. In many ways, it has the same legal rights as a person. The Dow Jones Industrial Average is a measure of how thirty large stocks are doing. It serves as a measure for the strength of the rest of the stock market. A "bull-market" means a time when the stock market is doing well and the values of shares are high, while a "bear-market" is the opposite. The stock market and the economy are connected; when one is doing well, so is the other.

Contains tips and tricks to develop effective money management skills.

RONNIE BARNES AFRICAN AMERICAN RESOURCE CENTER

All thirteen-year-old Raspberry can think of is making money so that she and her mother never have to worry about living on the streets again.

General

Using his own journey as a parable, Harper shows readers how to evaluate their values while laying a sound financial foundation, and how to recognize the worth of their relationships and increase the value of their interactions with the people in their lives. He helps readers begin to see money not as a goal but as a tool that provides freedom for following their passions. The keys include investing in yourself, tapping the resources you need, and taking responsibility for how those resources are used.

PROFESSIONAL COLLECTION

Last Updated Mar-21 MDN